BAPTIST NEWS NOTES.

The Baptists have joined their neighbors of the suffering public in a struggle with Old Man Flu during past weeks. It has been a rather long drawn out affair, with honors about equal. Now it is hoped that we are coming back to the bat at the church.

So next Sunday morning, we are confidently expecting a large attendance of the membership to be present at both the Sunday school hour—ten o'clock—and at the preaching service at 11 o'clock. The Resurrection will be the subject for study by the school. The Pastor will speak on "Some After Effects of the Resurrection."

For six weeks or two months, our choir has patiently and persistently practiced some special music—a Cantata—to be used on next Sunday night. Also quite a few members of the Methodist choir have joined their talent with our folks; so that the lovers of sacred music may expect a treat of an unusual kind. Do not forget the date nor the hour, Sunday night at the Baptist church, 8 o'clock. You are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mass and Rev. Father D. F. Mass, pastor of Holy Cross Catholic Church at D'Hanis, were painfully injured Monday morning, when their car overturned on the highway near Dunlay. Mr. Mass was driving, and none of the three occupants of the car can explain how the accident occurred. They were driving at a moderate rate of speed.

The injured were brought to the Medina Hospital here where first aid was rendered. Father Mass and Mr. Mass were able to leave the same day as they had suffered only minor cuts and bruises. Mrs. Mass, however, is still a patient at the Hospital, although she is rapidly recuperating from her injuries and the shock of the accident. She suffered the fracture of both wrists and painful cuts and bruises.

DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY AT BANDERA.

The double tragedy occurring at Bandera early last Sunday morning, in which Sheriff Elvius Hicks and Ben Clark lost their lives, is deeply deplored here where all parties are more or less known. Sheriff Hicks was shot and killed by Clark near a dance hall shortly after midnight Saturday night. Deputy Sheriff Billy Burns arrived on the scene in time to intercept Clark, who was in his car ready to drive away, and in an exchange of shots, Clark was killed.

Both dead men were born and reared in Bandera County. Sheriff Hicks home being near Tarpley.

Billy Burns, deputy, who went to the aid of his chief, Sheriff Elvius Hicks of Bandera county, when the latter was slain early Sunday, and allegedly killed Ben Clark, the sheriff's slayer, is the new sheriff of Bandera county.

At a special meeting of the commissioners' court Tuesday afternoon Burns was chosen after Mrs. Hicks, widow of Sheriff Hicks, had refused the office.

Burns demanded that he be charged with the murder of Clark, after the tragedy and his bond was set at $1000.

MARRIED.

A quiet wedding of much interest to their friends took place last Saturday afternoon, March 12th, at one thirty o'clock, in San Antonio, when Mr. John Martin and Miss Alma Faseler were united in holy wedlock.

After the ceremony the young couple returned to their home in the Upper Hondo community where Mr. Martin is a farmer and stockman.

Their many friends wish them a happy married life.

DEVINE NEWSLETS

From The LaCoste Ledger.

COLD WEATHER AND SICKNESS CUTS COUNTY MEET.

Owing to bitter cold weather, last Friday and Saturday, and the general prevalence of colds and influenza Devine did not show up very strong at the county meet in Hondo, we understand.

W. G. Driscoll, who will have about 900 acres in corn, said Tuesday that about 300 acres were up and he feared the stand would be ruined by the cold; 200 acres not yet up. He will go on planting other lands and wait awhile to see what becomes of that already planted.

FROM BIRY.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wernette spent last Saturday in Devine.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nations of Somerseset spent one day last week with Mrs. Hugh Love.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bader and daughters spent last Sunday at Three Point with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bendele of Castroville spent Wednesday at Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Biry's.

The sad news reached here Monday morning of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Breiten's little girl at Hondo.

Ferdinand and Julius Rihn spent a few days at home from Zapata County.

Chas. Godden spent Friday at Devine.

Quite a number here are having a tussle with the flu, this writer being one of them.

Prof. and Mrs. Gordon McCortley and Gertrude Beidiger spent Saturday at the County meet at Hondo.

FROM YANCEY.

We are enjoying warm sunshine after a week's freezing weather. There was lots of damage done to gardens and watermelon patches.

Last week-end our teachers and their classes went to Hondo to attend the county meet; and in spite of cold weather, and lots of sickness among the pupils the literary events Friday and track events Saturday brought a good many first and second prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Koellar of South Bend, Indiana, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gibson and family.

We regret to learn of the death of the twenty-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Brien of Hondo. Mrs. Breiten was formerly Miss Addie Moss and was reared in this community. We extend our sympathy.

We are having a number of cases of flu during the last few days.

We are glad to report Mrs. Louisa Ward's health improving. She is at present visiting at the home of Mrs. Don Sanders at Pearsall.

Mrs. Fanne Buchannon left for her home at Whitsboro, after several weeks' visit here with her sister, Mrs. Louisa Ward.

Mrs. Bill Fessler was taken to the Pearsall hospital for treatment, one day last week, and is doing very well since.

Miss Vera Vaughan has not returned to her work in the school room, as she has not sufficiently recovered from an attack of flu. She will remain in Austin for another week.

Miss Helga Block spent last week-end with home-folks in Yorktown.

PROTECT FARM MACHINERY.

With lower prices making it necessary for farmers to economize, they are turning to the care of machinery as one way to reduce expenses. Surveys have shown that housed machinery lasts just about twice as long as that which is exposed to the weather, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Many farmers unable to put all their implements under cover are taking the next best method of protecting them from rust and other weather damage. This is by oiling metal parts. Implements such as plows, cultivators, and disks must have their working surfaces shiny to do good work and greasing them prevents rust. Intricate parts of machines, such as the knottor on a binder, may be kept from rusting by spraying or swabbing with oil. Machine oil or used crankcase oil is good for this.

Careful cleaning will help preserve some implements, even if they are left out in the weather. Grain and dust often collect in corners in drills, grain boxes, and combines. Cleaning these out helps prevent their rotting.

TWILIGHT IN THE CANYON.

By Lorene Warren Baxter Meers.

The evening shadows softly fall
And edge with gold the canyon's wall
That guards the swiftly flowing stream,
Its dashing waters foam and gleam.
Against the rocks, the spray mounts high,
To kiss the vivid sunlit sky;
And while the deepening shadows play,
A muffled sound of hoofs betray
To us the coming of a doe.
She treads the sandy trails below,
With her were two young spotted fawns,
That feel secure in loving bonds.

The deer-run winds along the brink,
There doe and fawns pause to drink.
To ease her timid mind from doubt,
The doe first stops, then looks about;
They nose the running waters clear,
The young fawns play without fear.
Now lowering her gentle head
She drinks her fill, and then instead
Of moving slowly up the trail,
Before the parting light should fail,
A moment gazes at her side,
With loving care and tender pride.
She watches as they frisk and play
Within the silver crested spray,
While cedars' tang and grasses rare
Perfume the cool and bracing air;
Then suddenly an arrow sings
Across the tumbling foam—it stings.
The doe springs high into the air,
To pause or look, she does not dare;
But dashes madly through the wood.
Startled, the young fawns frightened stood,
Then follow swiftly at her heels,
Their breath upon her flank she feels.

The mother staggers on, then falls,
And from the stream a hunter calls,
Beneath the branches hanging low,
An Indian wades with unstrung bow
To where the fallen victim lies;
And while the warrior claims his prize,
The fawns in terror bound away
Through underbrush and boulders gray.
For hours they wander side by side,
In thickets dark, they trembling hide,
Each listening for the doe's return,
Their hearts in wildest anguish burn.

At length a deer-herd wanders by
And hear their bleating little cry.
A mother-doe soon finds them there,
Her panting, frightened, little pair,
And takes them proudly for her own;
They snuggle close—no more alone.
A birch canoe now grates the sand,
Tis guided by a small brown hand,
A lone canoeist in an Indian maid,
Artistic in the evening shade,
Her lover loads the slain deer
And they glide off through waters clear.

The Indian kneels with solemn face,
His paddle poised with noble grace,
The boat moves swiftly down the stream
In twilight's fading, misty sheen.
The maiden's loosely braided hair
Hangs over coppery shoulders bare.
He glances at the princess now,
As she sits silent in the prow.
He loves her wild, untamed charms,
And longs to take her in his arms.
She smiles with pride at her young brave,
His sinewy form and face so grave.

Past canyon walls where eagles nest,
The sun sinks slowly in the west,
While crouching beasts sink out of sight,
Far down the stream he sees the light
Of campfires flick'ring through the leaves,
From Indian camps among the trees.
Ahead they hear the rapids roar.
He pulls the boat up to the shore,
Across his shoulder throws the doe,
In one small hand she holds his bow.
Before the chief's wigwam they stand,
Two happy lovers, hand in hand.

Within the crackling fire's glare
They see the chieftain standing there.
The brave advances; their eyes meet,
And lays the doe prone at his feet.
The old chief walks with outstretched hands
To where his daughter shyly stands
And leads her to her lover's side
Who takes the princess for his bride.
While happy redskins dance around,
The canyon rings with merry sound;
Until the dawn shows in the east
They celebrate the wedding feast.

LA COSTE LEDGERETTES

From The Devine News.

LACOSTE PUBLIC SCHOOL WINS PENNANT AND BLUE RIBBONS.

The elimination contest at Hondo, Saturday, decided the Volley Ball Championship of Medina County in favor of the LaCoste Public School. Our team defeated all opposition, and brought home the pennant. In order to achieve the championship to which they are truly entitled, they had to face and defeat the most formidable teams in the county, teams from the larger schools where they are privileged to select their players from large bodies of students. We must use all of our available players as they are limited in number. It is, indeed, remarkable under the circumstances that each player on the LaCoste team has proved herself first class in every respect.

In the final contest held Saturday, our team defeated D'Hanis, Yancey, and Hondo. Following this elimination, Yancey and Hondo played a match game to decide which of these schools should rank second in the County.

During the current Volley Ball season the LaCoste Girls have established a record which cannot be excelled. They have played ten games and won every contest. The schools and number of contests with each are as follows: Lytle 2, O. L. G. School 1, Castroville 2, D'Hanis 2, Yancey 1, and Hondo 2.

The personnel of the LaCoste team are: Misses Annie Laura Duderstadt (coach), Josephine Santleben (captain), Paula Bippert, Laura Geiger, Augusta Bippert, Meda Reicherzer, and Alice Bush. Substitutes—Lena Geiger, Elvera Bippert, Christina Otto and Margaret Kauffman.

Two of our star volleyball players, Augusta Bippert and Meda Reicherzer, won the county championship in a Spelling Contest.

We are proud of the achievements of our pupils and feel that in years to come they will add renown to themselves and our school in many wonderful ways not yet foreseen.

Better Breakfasts

ONCE upon a week-end, a bachelor who never got up for breakfast if he could help it, was the guest of married friends and got up for breakfast because he couldn't help it.

Somewhat aggrieved, he reached the breakfast room and his half-opened eyes beheld crimson strawberries on green crystal plates, golden popovers, eggs baked in cute little pottery cups, steaming coffee and heavenly honeyed pastry.

"Why haven't I been told about breakfast before?" he demanded. "It is actually something to go to bed early for!"

Is yours? Try this better breakfast on your bachelor guest, or even your husband—for husbands have been getting up for breakfast fast for years.

Sauces for Fish and Meats

By FREDERIC FRANCOIS GUILLOT
Chef, Hotel Astor, New York City

AN appropriate sauce can greatly enhance the flavor of fish or meat, while going far toward eliminating that danger of monotony in the family menu which the most conscientious housewife is sometimes hard put to it to avoid.

The chief secret of the proper preparation of such sauces is a thoroughly clean pan and the use of the right ingredients. For this purpose, a small amount of sugar is frequently used by Continental cooks. Just why the sugar acts as it does nobody knows, but in the right proportion it serves admirably to blend all the flavors into a harmonious whole.

Chef Guillot

Creole Sauce (Serve with sliced roast beef, lamb or turkey)—Sauté one medium-size onion and two green peppers. Brown in a tablespoon fat. Add one can tomato sauce and one tablespoon flour. Season with one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon sugar. Stir thoroughly. Add x or xz creamed, skinned mushrooms and half teaspoon chopped parsley. Add one-half teaspoon chopped onion. Cook slowly until mushrooms tend to dry, and pour over the broiled slices of meat.

Sauce à la diener (Serve with fish)—Melt two tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Add three tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon paprika, and one-half teaspoon sugar. Add one cup milk, stir constantly. Add four tablespoons lemon juice and one tablespoon in to clumped puree. Cook slowly for a few minutes, remove from fire and pour over fish or serve in sauce boat.

Gypsy Simon SMITH

...recommends ASPIR-MINT

"I was suffering from a bad Cold.... Dr. Miles' Aspir-Mint relieved Me."

These two sentences are from a letter sent to us by Gypsy Simon Smith.

Mr. Smith spends his public life in the germ-laden atmosphere of crowds in hall, church or tabernacle. He goes from an overheated meeting place into the outer air spiritually uplifted, but physically exhausted.

His profession demands that he do the very things that he should not do if he wants to avoid catching cold. He is in position to speak with authority on the subject.

If you have a Cold, or if you suffer from Headache, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Toothache, Backache, Muscular Pains, Periodic Pains.

Dr. Miles' Aspir-Mint will bring you relief. At your drug store—15c and 25c.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texans"

Fewer Failures.

There is an evidence of better times in business failures in Texas are fewer. Only 82 firms went bankrupt in February as compared with 163 in January and 91 in February 1931. The total liabilities of bankrupt firms was also smaller—$2,400,000—which was 14 per cent less than on February, 1931, and only less than half of January, 1931. It would be interesting to know how many of the failures were attributable more to tight money than to "depression" talk than to immediate necessity for quitting business.

Building Gains.

While failures have been fewer, building in Texas has been gaining ground in recent months. Building permits for the year totaled $7,078,000 in the first six months and towns required such permits. This does not include the towns in which no reports of building activities are made, nor does it include road building and numerous other activities. The Texas building program is larger than that of any other section of the country except the Chicago territory. A large part of the Chicago increase is attributed to the Chicago World's Fair in 1933, either directly or indirectly. The history of such expositions shows that they are always attended by building and business expansion.

Room For All.

Progressive Texans, Inc., ably conducted by Will C. Edwards in the industrial of all Texas industries, shows that Texas ranks high in all the six requirements for successful industrial development, viz: markets, transportation, labor, raw materials, power and climate. A territorial population of 12,000,000 aside from Mexico; transportation, quick and cheap, to all parts of the world by rail and Texas; intelligent labor in great abundance; raw material of many kinds; almost inexhaustible quantities; power facilities, rates and service unsurpassed; fuel supply unapproached by any other section; cheap housing and mild climate are a few of the inducements Texas has to offer. There is no crowding among the industries in Texas, there being plenty of room for all.

Use Texas Products.

While I would not advise the use of Texas products to the exclusion of others, I do believe that Texans are too much inclined to buy from other sections even where Texas products of better quality can be had at lower prices. The San Antonio Express says that of 2,394 cars of agricultural products received in San Antonio in 1931 only 80 originated at points in Texas, which is a poor showing of Texas loyalty to Texas enterprises. Among the carload shipments from out-of-state points in excess of those from Texas points are oranges and tomatoes, there being 317 cars of oranges received, of which Texas supplied only 8, and 121 cars of onions with five from Texas. It is admitted that there are no better oranges and tomatoes grown in the world than in Texas in 200 miles and less of San Antonio. Why discriminate against Texas?

Truck Shipments Heavy.

Although the San Antonio market does not seem to care much for Texas vegetables and fruits, other places—mostly out of Texas—like them. A total of 58,199 carloads of truck, representing 30 different kind of garden truck, were shipped last year from Texas points. Cabbage and tomatoes were the leading items. Truck farming on a commercial scale is being developed rapidly in many sections of the State.

Gonzales Wins Poles.

Two Gonzales county boys, who had already won numerous medals and money prizes in South Texas fairs and much favorable comment in Texas papers, captured the first prize for the best agricultural exhibit at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Their exhibit scored 930 points out of a possible thousand. Harrison, Hunt and Ellis counties, that have heretofore been prize winners, took second, third and fourth prizes respectively. Intelligent effort applied to productive soil, and diversity of products was the winning combination.

Charge Bankers Hoard.

Hoarding is hoarding, and is bad for a country whether the money is hoarded in an old stocking or in a bank vault. Charges are being made that while hiding places are giving up many thousands of dollars, the money is not getting into circulation, but is stored in banks throughout the country. Banks should keep the reasonable and required reserves, but should not be scared into retaining larger deposits than are consistent with safe banking. Many of them have been unduly frightened by the frequent bank failures of the past year and have become too conservative, it is freely charged. Banks can not escape the obligation placed on them to keep money in circulation, widely distributed on safe loans. It is also said that too many large loans have been made, leaving banks with too little money for small borrowers.

Texas Farmer First.
Because Texas was early in establishing regional offices of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation a Titus county farmer was the first to get a 1932 farm loan from that body. He didn't borrow much—only $75—but doubtless that small loan meant more than thousands mean to the large corporations applying for large sums.

Profits From Pecans.
The Extension Service of the Texas A. & M. College reports that, with the pecans bringing only an average of 11 cents a pound, 500 demonstration groves in more than 30 counties netted their owners an average of $26.15 an acre in 1931. These were from native trees that had been top-worked to high-grade pecans.

Elephant Pulls Plow.
A circus that is wintering on a ranch in Bandera county is putting on a novel show free of charge to all who come to see. An elephant contentedly pulls a heavy plow on the farm. The Bandera New Era says that the elephant wears an embarrassed look over the task to which it has been assigned and perhaps does not regard it as dignified enough for a circus entertainer.

Laredo Oil Wells.

The Laredo oil field does not get as much publicity as the military-controlled field of East Texas, and doesn't produce as much oil, but development of oil and gas goes steadily along in that section, several highly productive wells being brought in each week. This same statement applies equally to several other of the older fields of Texas, where so many wells have been put down that a new producer attracts little attention locally and none in the press. Texas oil and gas development has, as yet, hardly been touched in Texas, though its productivity has attracted attention of the world.

Exploring Texas Caves.

The fact that the Smithsonian Institute has its explorers in the Big Bend section actively searching the numerous caverns of that section for Indian relics, which when unearthed will go to enrich the museums of the East, should suggest to Texans that it should take early steps to secure these treasures of early history and store them safely in a Texas museum, before they are lost to the people of the State.

Texas Cotton Goods.

Texas has only 143,432 cotton mill spindles, an infinitely small number compared with its cotton production, but those spindles are busy and turned out 3,360,000 yards of cloth in February, an increase of 7.4 per cent over January production. Texas cotton spinning appears to have passed through the stage of exploitation of stockholders and to be now on a conservative operating basis.

County Financing.

Maverick county boasts that it has constructed more than 50 miles of highway, macadamized all lateral roads in the county and made many other public improvements in the past eight years without issuing any bonds, incurring any outstanding debts or raising the tax rate. It is claimed that all this is due to good management and the general prosperity of that section. No bonds have been issued by the county since 1924.

Wins Vocational Distinction.

Two hundred and fifty Texas teachers of vocational agriculture contest each year for highest honors as "master teacher." H. H. Varnell of Cisco, won second place two successive years and this year has won the first position. The award is for "outstanding service both in the school and community", much of his work being extra-curricular and extending to neighboring schools and communities.

QUIHI NOTES.

"As Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." Romans 6:4.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Easter day service will be held in St. John's Lutheran church of New Fountain. In connection with this service the Holy Communion will be celebrated. All are cordially invited to this and all services in this church.

Balanced Farming Would Help Farmers, Says Chicago Banker

Melvin A. Traylor Would Make Modern Farm More Self-Contained

Speaks From Own Experience

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Like all of us, in every line of activity, the farmer was deceived by high values in the time of his prosperity. In a well-intentioned, but what now seems at least an unfortunate venture, the Government provided abundant credit facilities for the farmer's use. These facilities were supplemented by other large and liberal lending agencies which, likewise, were misled by land values. The result was that millions of farmers assumed obligations out of all proportion to any possible normal farm income.

All of us interested in farm activity and farm finance must assume our share of responsibility for this situation. We are learning our lesson and will have to take our medicine with the farmer himself. For this mistake, time and hard work seem to be the only remedy. Certainly, more credit will not solve the problem.

Agricultural Industry Relief

I wish I possessed some prophetic vision that I might suggest an easy way by which the agricultural industry could be relieved of its distress and started on a course of well-being and profit. God has not given me that power, but I think there is at least a partial remedy which the farmer himself can apply. That remedy will start him on the only course which, experience and observation convince me, any of us can hope to anticipate: the making of a comfortable livelihood.

When we find that on approximately 90 per cent of the farms in the United States there is not a milk cow nor a chicken, and that on more than 30 per cent there is not a hog, and on approximately 90 per cent not a sheep; when we know, further, that on many farms in our large agricultural states, no gardens are kept and almost every article of food is purchased at the store, we are forced to the conclusion that the farmer, by and large, is not farming as he should. I know that there are certain sections where some, or all, of these means of increasing farm income cannot be applied, but, so far as possible, every farmer should produce his own milk and dairy products, his own meat, and his own poultry, raise his own garden truck, and can the fruit and vegetables he requires for winter use.

Pigs and Chickens Help

Until he obtains from his farm even item for personal consumption while it is humanly possible for him to produce, he has not done his job properly. Pigs and chickens and cows are worth more to the individual farmer than all the government relief programs that may possibly be conceived.

Once the farmer lives at home, then I believe that whatever kind of money crop he may produce, whether it be large or small, the price high or low, his major difficulty will be solved and his margin of income for the necessities and luxuries he so much deserves will be greatly increased.

There is no romance about farming. If it is successfully done, I know it means hard work day in and day out. But so does any other business successfully performed. I know the privations of farm life. They are much less now than they were thirty years ago. I should like to see every farm home equipped with the modern conveniences of urban life. I should like to see every farmer with an automobile, a radio, and all other modern inventions which have contributed so much to social welfare.

No one is more entitled to these advantages than the farmer; but the farmer, like everyone else, should have them only when he can pay for them. The income for such purposes will be largely determined by the extent to which the farmer exhausts every possible means of supplying his necessities from the farm itself.

The way out for the farmer is not an easy one. Neither is the course smooth for industry, finance or government, and the problem in one sphere is little less difficult than in any other.

Farms for the man who wants to farm; ranches for the man who wants to ranch; town property for either who wants to retire and move to town. We have the place to suit you. See Hondo Land Company. Phone 127 when you need printing.

LADIES' BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Alice Reinhart entertained with a delightful bridge party Thursday afternoon of last week at her country home on the Seco, honoring the members of the Ladies Bridge Club and several guests. There were four tables arranged for bridge.

A St. Patrick's motif was used cleverly in bridge appointments. Tallies were distributed from a tall green Irish hat, and shamrocks, pins and shillalabs added to the charming arrangement of the luncheon tables.

Mrs. Ed. Connevey won high score and Mrs. Horace Bradley the cut for consolation among the Club members. High score among the guests was won by Mrs. Charles Monkhouse and the cut for consolation by Mrs. Ed. Rothe. Attractive prizes were awarded them.

The hostess served a delectable luncheon of molded green jello salad, chicken sandwiches in the shape of an Irish hat, potato chips, saltines, cake and hot tea. Mints were in the shape of green shamrocks.

Those present were Mesdames D. B. Taylor, E. J. Murray, F. H. Schweers, H. J. Meyer, O. H. Miller, L. E. Heath, Felix Batot, Milton Batot, Horace Bradley, T. B. Knopp, Eric Rothe, Jack Lacy, Ed. Connevey, Earl Starnes, Maurice Finger, Arthur Rothe, Charles Monkhouse and the hostess, Mrs. Reinhart.

TUESDAY BRIDGE.

Mrs. E. F. Mofield delightfully entertained her Club with two tables of bridge on Friday afternoon. The Easter motif was carried out and after five games of bridge Mrs. T. B. Knopp held high score. Mrs. Elsie Worden and Mrs. Jack Lacy were awarded cunning Easter rabbits for low score at each table. Delicious pie and coffee were served and favors were tiny baskets filled with Easter candies. Those present were Mesdames Holloway, Warden, Merriman, Martin, Knopp, Reilly, Bradley, Lacy and Mofield.

STATE COLLEGE QUARTETTE TO SING HERE APRIL 6th.

H. Grady Harlan, (Head of Voice Department) Director; Ezell Murdock, tenor; Bobby Stroble, lead; Willie Doyle, baritone; Aubry Mays, bass.

Seven years ago, H. Grady Harlan, who was at that time Head of the Voice Department of Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, decided that there was a real field for concertizing a college quartette. He perfected an organization of well trained and well blended young male voices and the work started in some of the smaller towns and churches. So successful was the effort that very short-ly there was a demand for the quartette at some service every Sunday throughout the school year as well as many during the week at public school auditoriums and for luncheon engagements. As a consequence Mr. Harlan has continued this work during the summer of office in the Teachers College of San Marcos.

To the Voice Department of the Teachers College have been attracted some of the finest young voices of the land. These have been trained both in the private studio, in the Glee Club and in the quartette. Both organizations have concentrated over every section of Texas and in all of the Texas cities and larger towns as well as in Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. This extra-curricula work has come to be one of the leading departments in the college. Both organizations have won for themselves the highest acclaim from Brownsville to Texarkana and from Amarillo to Beaumont as well as outside of Texas.

The quartette this year is more fortunate than ever before in its personnel. Ezell Murdock, tenor, has one of the finest tenor voices of lyric quality that any school may hope to be graced with. In addition he has had considerable of vocal training and has sung in a traveling quartette in every Southern state, although he is only twenty-three years of age. Bobby Stroble, second tenor, is possessed naturally with a good personality, genial disposition, and a most effective solo voice and has had three years of voice training and a full year of quartette concert work. Willie Doyle, baritone, studied for three years in Baylor University and for three years he was soloist with the First Baptist Church of Dallas. Having decided to return to college for his degree, he chose the town and college of his birth, and is in the Teachers College as a senior and baritone soloist. Mr. Aubry Mays is the bass from Palestine, Texas. He has attended a junior college for one year where he studied voice and choral work also. He has naturally a well rounded and deep, resonant bass voice. He makes a real foundation for the other three.

The boys are all sterling Christian characters and their message in quartette singing is the most effective that any audience of Texas will have occasion to hear. They sing their music from memory and they have the choicest of selections from hymns and anthems. As was said of them in one of Texas' largest churches very recently, "They were announced, they came and sang, and they thrilled a capacity audience for a whole service." Let the largest crowd ever to turn out be present to hear them at the Methodist Church of Hondo at 8:00 o'clock P. M. Wednesday evening, April 6th. All missing will regret having done so. The boys have never failed to have a full auditorium.

Medina County's cotton crop for 1931 fell materially below that of 1930 as shown by Gin Statistician John P. Lippold's latest report. Only 1,912 bales as for the 1931 crop is shown against 2,516 bales for the 1930 crop. The per acre yield for 1931 was better than that of 1930, the decrease being due to decreased acreage.

Shady Methods

The man who tries to riches gain By shady methods, tries in vain; Though he may win great heaps of gold His lot is hard, his heart is cold. Of those who hasten to grow rich But few escape financial ditch. Most all sure plans you'll find are slow And those who win are those who grow. This rule as well to banks apply; That's why the Hondo State Bank ranks so high.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPPENINGS

FROM THE OWL

OWLS WIN TWO CONFERENCE GAMES.

The baseball season is well under way now with two conference games to the Owls' credit. The boys are rounding into shape and look mighty fine. They are every bit champions if not regional champions, sez. I. Well, here's hoping they will be.

The Owls won the first game from the Pearsall Mavericks by a score of 18 to 4, a slow game due to cold weather.

The score by innings was as follows:

Hondo	015	001	650
Pearsall	300	000	001

Batteries: Finger and Embrey for Hondo; Sorrel and Bilhartz for Pearsall.

The Owls journeyed to Yancey for their second game, with the Yancey boys, which ended 28 to 1.

The score by innings was as follows:

Hondo	1011	057	428
Yancey	000	010	012

Batteries: Finger and Embrey for Hondo; Berry and Faseler for Yancey, with Ulbrich substituting for Finger in the fourth inning and Ward substituting for Berry in the sixth inning.

GLEE CLUB SINGS.

The Hondo Girls Glee Club gave an hour of entertainment Friday, March 11, at the Medina County Meet. The program was given just before the declamations in the high school auditorium. The Chorus sang a number of songs and the Firecrackers sang several numbers. The String Choir played two selections. Evelyn Knopp and Eleno Diaz each played several piano solos. A dance was given by Bonita Speece, Jonell Gaines and Kathleen Reilly with Margaret Ann Knopp as soloist. Dorothy Zerr played the piano and Ed. Armstrong and Ed. Armstrong, Jr., directed the musical numbers.

The Glee Club will make their next appearance in Sabinal, March 25, at which time they will sing with the Sabinal Choral Club an Easter Cantata, "The First Easter."

TREASURE HUNT.

"El Circulo de Espanol" held an unusual social meeting Thursday night, March 17. After the roll call and minutes were read, the members were divided into three groups, and each group was given a slip of paper with two necessary parts of it missing. They were instructed to find these two parts in a certain room and when these were found other instructions were written on them. After much meandering hither and yon the first group found the treasure in the trap-door of the stage. The treasure was a large candy Easter egg filled with smaller candies.

After the hunt, a delicious Mexican supper consisting of chili beans and tamales were served to about twenty-two members.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC.

"St. James Infirmary,"
"By the River Sainte-Marie,"
"Leven-Thirty Saturday Nite,"
"Girl of My Dreams":

"It's a Lonesome Old Town,"
"Honey" and oh, how I long for those
"Two Little Blue Little Eyes" and those
"Charming" "Red Lips". "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight", "Sweetheart of All My Dreams", "When It's Moonlight on the Colorado", "Little Girl", "You're The One I Care For" and "I Want You For Myself" "Always".

"When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain", the "Moonlight and Roses" ("Roses of Picardy") are the "Things that Remind Me of You".

"Louise", alias "Sweet Jenny Lee", "You're Driving Me Crazy", nevertheless "I Can't Do Without You".
"What a Wonderful Wedding That Will Be" (the "Wedding of the Painted Doll") when you'll be called the "Clad Rag Doll".

Our "Dream House" that I call "Our Bungalow of Dreams" is "Away Down South In Heaven" close to that "Lazy River" on the "Lonesome Road". "Angela Mia", when our "Dream Train" comes and takes us to our "Blue Heaven" I'll say "Everything's Made for Love". The "Wabash Moon" will shine on that "Weary River" ("Lazy River") and "You Can Tell Her Anything Under the Sun When You Get Her Under the Moon". "Ole Man River" looks at that "Old New England Moon" and says "Sing Something Simple".

"Pardon Me, Pretty Baby" ("The Million-Dollar Baby From the Five and Ten Cent Store"), but do you remember when you were "Hanging on the Garden Gate" "By My Side" and I was "Whistling in the Dark"?

"I Wanna Sing About You", but "Here Comes the Sun" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise".

"I'll Be Blue Just Thinking of You"—and "If I Can't Have You", but, oh, I must, because "I Can't Do Without You". You're just a "Precious Little Thing Called Love", "You Darling", and "I Gotta Be Loved By You", because "Everything's Made For Love" (not "Loveless Love").

"Sweeter Than Sweet" "When I Take My Sugar to Tea" we'll be "Swinging In a Hammock" "Where The Shy Little Violets Grow" in "Lilac Time".

"I Wanna Be Bad" so "Roll 'Em", "Girls"—"Is There Anything Wrong In That" just because "He's Tall and Dark and Handsome" and I'm just "Five Feet Two"? "Let's Get Friendly" because I've been "Crying Myself to Sleep" and I was so "Lonely" and now I'm "Blue Again". "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone", because I'll do anything "For You" when I'm in "Constantinople" "Under The Moon" ("Under A Texas Moon").

"True Blue Lou", give me "Just One More Chance" and please "Forgive Me". It's now "Nesting Time" and I'll say those "Three Little Words" "In My Dreams", because "I'm a Dreamer".

"I Haven't Got You", but "That's My Desire" and "You Can't Stop Me From Loving You". "My Sin" when I was "On The Beach With You" was to get in our "Love Boat" and stop

"Many Happy Returns of the Day" and do not "Keep Out of the South", just because you tell "Little White Lies".

"Dream a Little Dream of Me", "Faithfully Yours" "Poor Papa".

P. S. "Smile, Dear YA, Smile" and if you're "Feeling Kinda Blue", "Laugh, Clown, Laugh". "Love Me". "Chaquita".

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth-paste.

field seed, weed seed or noxious weed seed. These items are carried on a separate tag if the seed be sold as "tested" seed.

The Germination and Weed Seed Law or the Texas Seed Act, provides that all agricultural seed or field seed, including onions and spinach, when offered or exposed for sale in Texas, when in bulk, package, sacks or other containers of ten pounds or more in weight, shall be labeled either as "tested" or as "not tested" seed. If sold as "tested" seed, then each package, sack or other container of ten pounds or more in weight, shall be labeled with a tag or label on which is written or printed the vendor's statement with regard to the seed. This statement must contain the analysis of the seed with regard to the following items: Where grown; germination; mechanical purity; inert matter; other commercial seed; weed seed and noxious weed seed, if any. If noxious weed seed be present above the tolerance allowed by law, then the approximate number per pound must be stated and they must be named, so that the purchaser may be protected from unknowingly getting his fields infested. Seed carrying labels of this kind are called "tested" seed and should not be confused with state registered or state certified seed.

If seed are sold as "not tested" seed, they must be labeled as such. These labels carry only the words "not tested" written or printed upon them; those who buy "not tested" seed, do so at their own risk.

In summary, the Field Seed Certification Law is based on voluntary application of seed growers for field inspection, and gives evidence as to varietal purity and trueness to type. At present, it applies to cotton seed, sorghum and small grain. The official tags are blue and red and are emblematic of the law.

The Germination and Weed Seed Law, or Texas Seed Act, applies to all field seed, including onion and spinach, when offered or exposed for sale in Texas when in packages or sacks of ten pounds or more in weight. The labels are printed on a background of white, and carry the vendor's statement of the analysis of the seed in regard to germination, mechanical purity (not varietal) inert matter, other crop seed, weed seed and noxious weed seed content. The white label also distinguishes them from the State Registered or the State Certified seed labels.

The Seed provide that nothing in them shall be construed as preventing one farmer from selling to another farmer such seed as are grown on his own farm without having such seed tested or labeled, when such seed are not advertised in the public press outside of the vendor's home county and are not shipped by common carriers.

THE COST OF CRIME.

In its report on "The Cost of Crime" the Wickersham Commission states that America's crime bill is well in excess of $1,207,000,000 a year. The average per capita cost of crime in 300 cities which were surveyed, was $5.47. The lower rate recorded in Galesburg, Illinois—was 92 cents. The highest—in Jersey City—was $11.30 a year for each citizen. These facts should make the public wonder if the pleasure of passing new "reform" laws is worth what they cost, not only in actual money, but in security, freedom and a stable society.

As an economy measure the Commission recommends a weeding out of laws, to eliminate unnecessary and expensive social restrictions. There is nothing new in this, but it is well to bring it once more to public attention. If there is one cause responsible for the prevalence of crime, its cost, and the failure of law enforcement, it is the tremendous bulk of unnecessary laws on our statute books.

The average citizen needs few laws to deter him from murder, house-breaking, kidnapping, blackmail and other age-old crimes, while a million laws, in themselves, will not stop the criminal from pursuing these same vocations and using a gun or a black-jack or any other murderous weapon, which he will secure, law or no law. —Selected.

WHAT OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON II?

By FRED W. DAVIS

President Harding made Andrew W. Mellon Secretary of the Treasury. He was retained by both Coolidge and Hoover, serving longer than any of his predecessors.

One day somebody expressed the opinion that Mellon is a second Alexander Hamilton, and as Uncle Andy didn't object to the title, it was soon passed on to the world at large and now if any one should speak the phrase "Alexander Hamilton the Second", one would know to whom he referred. Yet, those who know anything of our history are aware that there was absolutely nothing upon which to base the title given to Mellon.

Alexander Hamilton placed a new, untried, bankrupt nation upon a solid financial footing. Daniel Webster eloquently said of him that, "He smote the rock of national resources and abundant streams of revenue came forth. He touched the dead corpse of our public credit and it sprang upon its feet." What did Mellon do? He took the financial reins of the government after it had grown rich beyond the dreams of a Midas, and was the creditor nation of the world. He laid them down when the treasury was depleted, our whole financial system in a state of chaos and thrown back upon the Congress.

Thos. Jefferson, a bitter political foe of Hamilton, when he became president had his Secretary of the Treasury go into the minutest detail of Hamilton's record. Upon the completion of this task Hamilton was given a complete vindication—not a charge was made against him.

On the other hand it is reported that Mellon, through his vast holdings, has many times violated his oath of office and been in violation of the law, as Secretary of Treasury. Whether these charges be true or not, some of his acts have been kept even from the Congress and he retired under fire, putting the Atlantic ocean between himself and his accusers. To get out and have the trial stopped is pretty much like pleading guilty with the understanding the sentence will be suspended.

The bankrupt condition of the government is not the only indication that Mellon has really been found wanting as Secretary of the Treasury. Some time ago he advised the Congress to reduce the income tax—especially in the higher figures, and to ease up on other forms of taxes against big wealth and special privileges. He argued the government would get more money by giving a freer rein to the big boys—that the higher figures would meet the economic law of diminishing returns. But just recently he advised the Congress to go back to the higher figures in order to bring the treasury out of the red. Either the great Hamilton the Second (?) didn't know what he was talking about the first time or he didn't know the second time, showing a lack of judgment, or else he did know what he was doing both times, showing a lack of character. Compare this to Hamilton who stood the acid test when it was applied by his political enemies.

Mellon is like Hamilton in that he is for a protective tariff. But again, Mellon falls short of the character of Hamilton because Hamilton wanted to protect all American industries, including agriculture, and supported the principle of an export debenture, while Mellon is for a tariff to protect certain favored industries and actively opposed the principle of an export debenture.

Why should this government, that was won by ragged, barefooted, half-starved soldiers and established by patriots upon the principle of the equality of man, become the alternating active tool and shield of great wealth?

ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR

TO THE VOTERS OF TEXAS:

Responding to the written request of more than 400 friends in 200 counties in Texas that I again enter the service of the state and pledging their active support, I hereby announce as a candidate for governor. These friends assure me that there is an urgent demand for my candidacy not only from all former supporters, but from thousands who have heretofore opposed me. They further say that there is a wide-spread dissatisfaction with the present administration of state affairs and that the public is demanding relief from governmental inefficiency and extravagance.

While I am not anxious to, nor will I enter into any scramble for office, yet I do not feel that any citizen is at liberty to decline public service in time of public need. My family having been in the past signally honored I recognize a special obligation to heed the call of Texas if I am needed or wanted in the public service.

I sincerely hope that the contest in which we are about to engage will be conducted on the basis of merit rather than personal antagonism. "Who can best serve Texas" should be the uppermost thought in the minds of the voters when the time comes to cast the ballot in our democratic primary.

In addition to my connection with and my experience in the governor's office, I shall avail myself of the advice and cooperation of competent friends, of the legislature and my husband in determining a policy that will relieve the present perilous condition of our state affairs.

In submitting my name as a candidate I deem it proper to take the people into my confidence and tell them that I am not financially able to make any extensive or expensive campaign and will have to leave myself in the hands of my friends in the various counties of the state. I will go into office again, as in the past, under no promise or obligation to any special interest or faction for past, present or future favors.

THE TEXAS SEED LAWS

Each year, the farmers of Texas plant more than one hundred million acres to field crops. The value of these crops, when harvested, amounts to more than five hundred million dollars.

To plant this huge acreage requires a vast amount of seed, and, as good seed is one of the requirements of productive crops, the seed question is an important one to farmers. As the time for procuring seed for another crop draws near, it would be well for both farmers and seedsmen to become better acquainted with the seed laws now in force in Texas.

At the request of farmers, the State Legislature at different times has passed laws regulating the sale of field seed. At present, there are two laws under which seedsmen operate. They are the Field Seed Certification Law and the Germination and Weed Seed Law, better known as the Texas Seed Act. Each of these laws cover a separate phase of the question and the enforcement of each is under a separate division of the State Department of Agriculture; but both are under the direct supervision of the State Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Field Seed Certification Law deals with varietal purity, and has for its purpose to create and make available a source of pure seed, true to name, thereby giving the purchaser of planting seed the benefit of an unbiased opinion in regard to the quality of the seed offered for sale by farmers or firms who voluntarily apply for State inspection of their growing crops and field conditions and who meet all requirements necessary to registration and certification.

Those who meet the requirements of State inspection as to facilities and varietal purity together with uniformity counts, are issued certificate tags to be attached to each bag or package of their seed.

Under the regulations of this law, State Registration Seed tags are printed on a background of blue. The first year's progeny of State Registered seed are called State Certified seed and the tags on all state certified seed are printed on a background of red.

It should be remembered that neither of these tags carry the analysis in regard to germination, mechanical purity, inert matter, other (Continued on last page.)

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

All lovers of westerns have a treat in store for them at the Colonial Theatre where "The Texas Ranger", a Buck Jones Columbia vehicle, will show Saturday and Sunday. It is a thrill picture if ever there was one. The plot revolves around a row between homesteaders in the cattle region of Texas and Matt Taylor, a capitalist. The Texas Rangers are called in to settle the dispute and, more particularly, Buck Jones, in the case. The action that follows is role of a Texas Ranger, is assigned to fast and furious and Buck is given ample opportunity to exploit his feats of daring horsemanship. Carmelita Geraghty supplies the feminine interest. A large supporting cast contributes excellent performances.

"This Reckless Age", the feature picture at the Colonial Theatre for Thursday and Friday, is Paramount's filimination of Lewis Beach's stage success, "The Goose Hangs High." It is a sentimental comedy drama of parents who have dedicated their lives to supplying every want of their children, who in turn, following the "jazz" trend of this reckless age, give slight consideration to the grueling self-denial of their parents.
